PRINCIPAL'S CORNER: WHAT'S WORTHWHILE IS NEVER EASY

Did you grow up with phrases such as "if it isn't worth doing right it isn't worth doing" or "a job well done is a job well done" or "life is not easy"? These were a few of my father's pet phrases and they have served me well. Charles Fay of the Love and Logic Institute also has a phrase that serves us well, "what's really worth doing in life is rarely easy".

Yet, how many of our children ever hear this powerful message about struggle? Charles Fay says that evidence of this is that they live their lives going from one easy thing to the next, desperately trying to find fulfillment. Do you know anyone who does this—and never finds joy and meaning?

Would you agree that we can and should give our children the gift of hearing us talk about the satisfaction that comes from hard work?

Those that get this message become the people employers want and America needs.

Permanently ingrain this message of struggle and the satisfaction that comes from hard work, delayed gratification, and achievement by letting your children overhear you talking about your own struggles and the satisfaction you felt when you worked your way through those struggles.

It may not be easy but its worth it! :)

SCS CLASH OF COLORS! - MARCH 26, 2010 - ITS TRADITION!

Clash of Colors is a unique Sculptor tradition. Successful educational facilities, like Sculptor, build traditions that foster community and school pride. Clash of Colors was started by Mrs. O'Sullivan back in 2002, to build school spirit through cooperation while forming a bond among our K-8 student body, faculty, staff, and parents.

Color Teams are formed to include kindergarten through 8th grade students that are led by teachers and staff. Middle school students, on their Color Teams, serve as student leaders. Additional staff members and middle school students facilitate the games and assist students throughout the event.

Color Teams meet during Spirit Week to get acquainted. Together, they develop a team name, a banner and spirit cheer. The theme is based on having fun with an emphasis on teamwork and good sportsmanship. In fact, extra points and recognition are awarded to the teams that display good sportsmanship and good team spirit.

Clash of Colors is truly a whole Sculptor Team event. All of us participate together to foster school pride and to show that every Sculptor Team Member is valuable. So let's have a fun-filled day and Good Luck to all the Color Teams!!! Don't forget to wear your team color/s on event day!
