PRINCIPAL'S CORNER: HAPPY SUMMER!

It is hard to believe that we are now in our next to last week of school, 2009-2010. It seems we were just welcoming you all back on the first day of school!

On behalf of Sculptor, I would like to thank you all for choosing Sculptor as your educational partner and for all your support this year!

Wasn't it so wonderful to come back to the successful renovation of our own building? Hope you have enjoyed the space as much as we have. Pride in ownership is priceless!

And how about that Sculptor Band? Have you had a chance to hear and see them in action? If not, 2010-2011 promises to provide more opportunities to see this talented group of students perform.

Its bittersweet as we send our rising 9th graders off to begin their high school careers. We send with them sincere wishes for their continued success towards reaching those goals that they have or yet to set for themselves in becoming responsible citizens.

We look forward as we continue to grow as we adding our third fifth grade class next year.

We'll be busy with many projects this summer preparing for your return. The building will get a thorough cleaning, probably some painting and touch-ups, as the floors are stripped and waxed. We will also be looking at putting in a jogging path around the field as well as some leveling and reseeded. These are just a few of the plans that are underway.

Have a happy and safe summer! Enjoy your family and the time off from school.

I have a very important final reminder: the last day of school is a Friday but dressing down is not an option for the student body. Please help your children prepare for this day by having uniforms ready to wear. We want to ensure a safe and successful last day for ALL!

We look forward to seeing you on August 3rd for Final Student Registration as we get in gear for another world-famous year!

We thank you again for a wonderful year. Have a great summer!!!

Remember Love and Logic

As we go into these summer vacation months, here's a reminder that may help keep the summer peaceful for parents while allowing the kids to do the thinking.

Kids can hook us into an argument without breaking a sweat. Here are some Love and Logic One-Liners that will get us off the hook and cause children to do most of the thinking. (One-liners are ONLY effective when said with genuine compassion and understanding. They are never intended to be flippant remarks.)

Good Luck parenting with Love and Logic!

ONE-LINERS

- "Probably so"
 "I'll bet it feels that way."
 "I know."
 "Nice Try."
 "I don't know. What do you think?"
 "Bummer. How sad."
 "Thanks for sharing that."
 "Maybe you'll like what we have for the next meal."
 "I'm not sure how to react to that. I'll have to get back to you on it."

WITH SWEET SORROW & APPRECIATION

"I remember the first time I met Mrs. Sheridan. I was just a parent then and Sculptor was young, in its second year of operation, and in a make-shift but much loved location. I walked into the partitioned area that was carefully devoted to the Sculptor library. There she was! She looked up from a book to greet me as I entered, "Come on in, I'm waiting for the next class. I can't wait to read them this story!"

The students were then welcomed with open arms. I stayed, watching in awe as she opened the storybook and took them all on a magical journey. Carol impersonated the characters, each with a unique voice, as she read and took simple, special moments to look the adorning children in the eye. Her devotion reflected in their smiling faces.

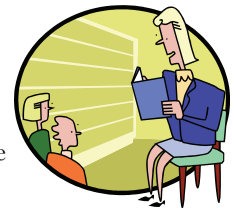

Once the students were gone, she explained to me how she had just received some retired store fixtures. She was anxious to spray-paint & refurbish them the best way she could and eager to install them in the library so she could line them with her much-loved books. Her dedication reflected in her determination.

Now, as a Sculptor employee, I have continued to watch her over the years, reading many a story to wide-eyed children and never turning a soul away that was interested in a book or in using the library for the services there-in. As always, she was there with open arms, oh, and with a peppermint candy! It is people like Carol that make me proud to be a part of the unique Sculptor family and community. Her loyalty and commitment are an example to us all" -Sculptor Staff Member

Please join us in wishing our librarian of 8 years, Mrs. Carol Sheridan, well as she retires at the end of this school year. We owe her an unrelenting debt of gratitude!

Sculptor Charter School was one of the very first charter schools to have a library, thanks to the effort of Mrs. Sheridan and our Sculptor parent community, past and present.

Congratulations, Mrs. Sheridan, and THANK YOU for your contribution in making us World-Famous!

TEXTBOOK REMINDER

Textbooks will be collected soon as the curriculum is completed. Each student is responsible for the specific textbook assigned to them by number at the start of the school year.

Now is a good time to verify that your child has THEIR correct assigned textbook and that it is still in usable condition in order to avoid having to pay for a "lost or damaged book".

The school will purchase new books to replace lost or damaged books, therefore it is necessary that we charge parents the replacement cost.
